

From Carrots to Karats

The House of Graff, one of the world's leading diamond companies, had a jewel of an idea when it hosted a cocktail reception in honor of the inaugural Evergreen Invitational Show Jumping Grand Prix, the brainchild of MK Pritzker, to be held at the Pritzker horse farm in Bristol, Wisconsin, on September 15. The Grand Prix, expected to net an estimated $500,000, will benefit innovative patient care programs at Prentice Women's Hospital of Northwestern Memorial Hospital. Over 300 guests sipped champagne, enjoyed hors d'oeuvres, and admired the exquisite jewels at the Oak Street store.

Guests left with a gift bag containing the hardcover book, Graff, and the December issue of Today's Chicago Woman, which featured MK on the cover announcing the Grand Prix. As MK explained in her interview, "I really wanted to share our beautiful farm with fellow equestrians, and at the same time, do something to benefit health programs at Prentice that will impact women in need." For more information visit www.evergreeninvitational.net ■

By Mimi Martonffy

1. Sam & Dede Harris,
2. Tessa Gillenwater & Heather Farley,
3. JB & MK Pritzker,
4. Deanna Gertzkof & John Bokina,
5. Julie O'Conner & Kathryn Mangel,
6. Sharon & John Rogers,
7. Deborah Markoff,
8. Cathy Crane, Diana Hall & Guy Crane.

